Steve Britt is an attorney at the law firm of Scott, Douglass & McConnico, L.L.P. in Austin, Texas specializing in state and local tax controversy. Since 2009, Steve has represented a wide range of clients in mixed beverage tax administrative appeals and state court litigation. Steve's experience includes helping mixed beverage tax clients deal with collection actions from the Comptroller's Enforcement Division, representing bars and restaurants through the audit process, negotiating agreed settlements of audit disputes, and representing mixed beverage tax clients in litigation through the administrative and district courts. Steve has taken dozens of disputed mixed beverage tax audits to court and has won favorable rulings from SOAH judges on all aspects of audit contentions including average price adjustments, average pour increases, and auditor error.

Steve is a graduate of the University of Texas School of Law and Vanderbilt University. Before attending law school, Steve was a high school teacher and coach for ten years.
